

PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy policy is addressed to the users of the Service - the website www.5avenueholding.com.

This privacy policy describes the principles of collecting and using service users' data, which are collected directly or through cookies and similar technologies.

Data controller

The administrator of data collected in connection with using the Website is 5th Avenue Holding S.A., which is based in Warsaw. For matters related to the processing of your data, you can contact with the Data Administrator by phone number: +48 22 401 11 00 or e-mail: office@5avenueholding.com.

Scope of data collection

1. The website allows you to contact the Data Controller and provide him your identification and contact details, and also related to the content of the message.
2. The Administrator collects data related to your activity on the Website, and may also collect data necessary for statistical analysis.
3. The Website does not use automated decision-making, including profiling.

Source of data

1. The source of the data is the person who contacted the Data Controller.
2. If your data have been provided in connection with the processing of a case by another person who referred the case to the Data Controller, the data source is that person. In this case, the Data Controller receives identification, address and case-related data, such as a description of the case.

Purpose and legal basis of the processing personal data

Your data may be processed for:

- analysing network traffic, ensuring security within the Service and adapting contents to users' needs based on legally justified interest of the Data Controller - Article 6 (1) (f) of the Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of data and repealing directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation) (OJ EU. L. of 2016 No. 119, p. 1 as amended); hereinafter "RODO";
- to answer to your questions, to transmit the requested offer, and to conduct correspondence in order to settle the matter, based on your permission and the controller's legitimate interest which is fulfilling user requests - Article 6(1)(a) and (f) of the RODO;
- conclusion and performance of an agreement, including to issue an invoice or bill and implementation a service - Article 6(1)(b) of the DPA;
- establish cooperation - Article 6(1)(a) of the DPA;
- to assert debts - Article 6(1)(f) of the DPA;
- fulfillment of the Administrator's legal obligations in connection with the conduct of its business activities - Article 6(1)(c) of the DPA;
- to conduct its own marketing and promotional activities - Article 6(1)(f) of the RODO;
- to conduct marketing and promotional activities on the basis of a separately granted consent - Article 6(1)(a) of the DPA;
- sending commercial information by electronic means pursuant to Article 10(2) of the Act of 18 July 2002 on electronic services (Journal of Laws of 2020, item 344).

Right to withdraw consent

You may withdraw your consent to the processing of your contact data at any time by contacting the Data Controller.

Obligation or voluntariness of providing data

1. Provision of data by you for the purposes of handling the case is voluntary, but necessary to process the case. Failure to provide such data may hinder or prevent the processing of the case.
2. Provision of data required for statistical analysis of website users is entirely voluntary.

Rights under the RODO with regard to the data processed

You have the right to:

- demand from the data controller to inspect your data, as well as to receive a copy of them - Article 15 RODO;
- request that the Data Controller to correct or amend your information - Article 16 RODO;
- request that your data be erased from the data controller - Article 17 RODO;
- request the Controller to restrict processing - Article 18 of the DPA;
- you may lodge a complaint with regard to the processing of your personal data by the Data Controller with the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection.

Recipients of your personal data

Recipients of your personal data may only be entities that are legally permitted to receive them. In addition, we may make your data available to couriers, postal operators, hosting providers, mail servers, law firms, and debt collection companies.

Duration of data storage

1. We will store your personal data until you withdraw your consent or until the matter is resolved, and then until the expiry of the limitation period for claims by the parties relating to its execution.
2. We may store data related to web traffic analysis collected through cookies and similar technologies until the cookie expires. Some cookies never expire, therefore the duration of data storage will be equivalent to the time necessary for the controller to fulfil the purposes of data collection, such as ensuring security and analysing historical data related to the website traffic.

Transfer of data to another country or international organisation

It will not transfer your data to third countries or international organisations.

Use of cookies and similar technologies

The website allows to collect information about the user through cookies and similar technologies, which using usually involves the installation of this tool on the user's device. This information is used to remember the user's decisions, maintain the user's session, remember the password, collect information about the user's device and his/her visit for security purposes, but also to analyse the visit and adjust the content.

Changes to the privacy policy

Any changes to this privacy policy must be made in written form and will be published on the Website.

